

The Detmold School of Architecture and Interior Design

Welcome!

The Detmolder Schule für Architektur und Innenarchitektur offers a course of study in which theory and practice constitute a dynamic unit in an environment that blends traditional and modern architecture. The open and transparent arrangement of the buildings leads to various meetings and promotes the creative atmosphere on campus. The combination of the courses of study in architecture and interior design provides a variety which shapes the character of the Detmold School.

Please update your flash player if the animation is not being shown correctly -> www.adobe.de